For the record, ya I know it is a bit garbled, that raging amazone chick, this Diana character but ...she has been close to the source , so she knows a thing or two,that is the clue here.For those who wonder why I put up this crap ...because you have to filter out the tiny gold nuggets out of a swamp...And there are a few nuggets to be found 😊

Alan's bank account seems to be one of them, so , is miss Germany right after all hmm..it would make sense...it will all evolve, truth cannot be stopped, it will come out..one way or another...what can we say ...it sure " beats " netflix....

So maybe that is what it is all about , she does not have access to his bank account, hmm , interesting developments, technically she has no right to even run the website, legally but as Jo Leigh said, she has lawyers scamming over Alan's family in Scotland, his sisters, one is older one is younger. Etc etc etc... the puzzle forms shape...

Good morning everybody. It is May 6th.

I was just talking with another survivor and so much in common. It's just sad but also empowering to know that I don't know that there were others or that I'm not crazy which I already know already but that we can help each other and that's really awesome. But as we were talking a part come up I think y'all are familiar with Manny. He's my his name used to be Monster and he's like the Incredible Hulk and he stands and he hollers cuz he's just mad and uh he feels a little need to whack away.

How dare you hurt me? How dare you? You go to hell.
You suffer in hell.
You are in hell. God, turn up the flames.
How dare you?

It's for you, Alan. What? Melissa Reed. How dare you? How dare you?

You know exactly what you're doing.

Exactly. misleading people, begiling them, and lying in the cleverest of ways.

How dare you defile people's minds. All of you.

Wow.

Wow.

Feeling a bit lightheaded now. I was just going through some old some books that I read 20 years ago, listening to this person talk about the Bible and what he knows and what it means and this and that. And because 20 years ago, I didn't know anything about the Bible or Jesus. It's just coming out of the new age and out of Scientology and all that brainwashing.

(so it seems our lady Diana was part of scientology , no wonder she is a bit hmm messed up)

And I believe this man because he presents 95% truth and then slides that 5% of poison in there. And all of it was defiling God and the Bible. And so I'm going through the process right now of retaching myself and my parts that believe that what the true information is and discovering just how egregiously egregiously this person lied and misled and beguiled and belittled and blasphemed. It it's it it's awful. Just awful. And you're burning in hell right now. Alan Watt and Melissa Reed. Feel this. Feel it. I hope you're sick every day the rest of your life. I hope you suffer and never ever ever get the rights to that information ever or get your hands on Alan Watt's bank account which is SUBSTANTIAL. I will say greedyusingnasty

You will pay.

You will pay in hell. I hope you pay on earth right now. God give you migraines and cancer and sickness of all kinds for the rest of your days.

You know exactly what you're doing. You've embraced Satan and his minions.

You know it. You know it and you embrace it. How dare you?

How dare you claim to be a Christian? You're a liar, a blasphemer, idolator, and you practice necromancy. You're disgusting. How dare you deceive me?

(...rest of the prattle is removed by me...it was irrelevant) we have to focus on the little gems here and there not the rants of a lunatic...)
